STONEWOOD

Acacia flooring is absolutely unique and makes an unforgettable impression the first time you see it installed. Acacia has a very high level of color variation, usually within the same plank. Expect both very light planks, and very dark plank as well as any combination in between. The colors are sharp and vibrant while the depth of the grain really creates some breathtakingly beautiful floors. Unless you want your floors to be more color consistent, this flooring option makes your buying decision really easy.
